SUPERVISORS ORGANIZE NEW BOARD TUES.

Supervisor E. B. Dudley, of N. Bloomfield, was elected chairman of the county board of supervisors at the regular meeting of the supervisors Tuesday. Mr. Dudley, who is supervisor of the third district, has been an active and hard working member of the board for eighteen years.

The morning session Tuesday was devoted to clearing up the reports of retiring supervisors Eddy and Goudge. Carey S. Arbogast of Nevada City succeeds Mr. Eddy and Frank Rowe succeeds Mr. Goudge.

Tuesday at noon the court house attaches gathered in the supervisors rooms to bid farewell to the retiring supervisors and to welcome the new members of the board into the official family of Nevada county. Judge Raglan Tuttle acted as the spokesman and paid a tribute to the retiring supervisors. Mr. Eddy has served the county for twenty years, most of that time as chairman of the board. Mr .Goudge has represented the second district for the past four years.

E. B. Dudley, the new chairman of the board, was born at North Columbia and has spent most of his life in the district he represents. With the limited funds at his disposal Supervisor Dudley has accomplished all that could be expected in improving the roads of his district. It is generally believed that the selection of Mr. Dudley as chairman of the board is well deserved and that the board as now constituted will work harmoniously for the best interests of Nevada county.

NEVADA CITY BUSINESS MAN IS HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

V. V. Foley, proprietor of Foley's candy and ice cream parlor in Nevada City, is carrying about a damaged counteance as the result of an automobile accident which occurred last Thursday evening on the highway near Newcastle.

Mr. Foley states that he stopped his car in the rear of a Purity truck which had stopped on the highway. A car struck his car in the rear and moved the car so that another car coming from the other direction hit his machine.

The impact threw Mr. Foley forward and his face struck the instrument board. Fortunately no bones were broken and aside from lacerations and bruises about the mouth and chin, Mr. Foley was not injured and says that he will suffer no permanent harm from the accident. The traffic officer who investigated the accident places the blame on the Purity truck which had stopped on the highway.

Mrs. Jack Townsend, who has been ill, recovered sufficiently to be removed from the Nevada City Sanitarium to her home on Zion street in this city. She was conveyed in the Jefford ambulance on New Years day.

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE TO BE MARRIED SUNDAY

This coming Sunday afternoon at the Buffington ranch just West of town, another Frey will change her name to Buffington. It has just leaked out that Foster Buffington will take as his wife, Miss Frey at the family home. Shortly over a month ago, Rolph Buffington and Zita Fray were married and now Rolph's brother and Zita's sister will follow suit.

The Frey sisters moved from Kansas about a year ago. Mrs. W. Walker and Mrs. Cranger of Wet Hill on the Indian Flat road are their aunts.

Foster Buffington has lived here all of his life and is the youngest of eight children, only two of which are girls. Sunday all will have been married save one sister—Edna, who lives in San Francisco.

Following the wedding the couple plan to take a honeymoon to a destination unknown.

PIONEER RIDGE WOMAN PASSES AWAY MONDAY

Mrs. Kathryn English, North Columbia's oldest resident, passed away Wednesday evening shortly before 10 o'clock at the advanced age of 88 years. Although Mrs. English has not enjoyed good health for some time past ,it has not been until the last two weeks that her condition has become very alarming.

She was a native of Canada, but came to this state with her husband the late Charles J. English about 65 years ago and has resided in North Columbia since the late seventies.

She has always taken an active interest in the life of the little community, becoming an intergral part of it. Since the death of her husband about 18 years ago, she perferred to live at the old home place with her son Thorn and her daughter, Miss Georgia English. Besides these two she leaves the following children to mourn for her: James H. English of Los Angeles Mrs. A. E. Whitehead of San Francisco, and Mrs. F. J. Brophy of Berkeley. There are also a number of grandchildren and great grandchildren.

The funeral will be conducted from St. Canice Church this morning, Rev. O'Reilly offiviating.

J. C. PENNEY COMPANY HAS BANNER MONTH

The month of December just past has been the largest sales month that the J. C. Penney Company of Grass Valley has had since it opened four years ago. The months business was an increased of 25 per cent over December 1931.

Twenty-six clerks were employed to take care of the rush the week before Christmas. This meant that 18 additional clerks had to be employed from the Twin Cities thereby cutting down the unemployment at least temporarily.

Under the guidance of Manager Earl Covey, the Grass Valley branch of the J. C. Penney Company has steadily increased in the amount of sales this in spite of the greatly reduced price of retail merchandise and the depression. Several times the Grass Valley store has almost won the sales banner for this division and is in hopes that his December record will not be beaten by any other store. He has striven hard to make the record and his friends are anxiously awaiting for the news of the award.

NEIGHBORS OF WOODCRAFT INSTALL OFFICERS LAST NITE

Champion Circle, Neibhbors of Woodcraft, held the annual installation of officers last night at the Native Sons Hall in Nevada City.

A large number of visiting members were present from Grass Valley and Auburn. After the installation the members of the lodge and the visitors sat down to an appetizing banquet. The Nugget will publish the list of officers installed in the next issue.

DEATH SUMMONS NOTED MOTHER LODE ENGINEER

Bennett Ackerly Penhall, one of the most noted mining engineers of the Mother Lode, passed away shortly after midnight, New Years day, following a heart attack. He was stricken at 1 o'clock in the morning, conveyed to the Jones Memorial hospital in the Jefford ambulance, and succumbed at 1:45 in the morning.

Mr. Penhall was born in Cornwall, England, in 1853, and was the grandson of the late Sir John Ackerly of London. For 59 years he lived in Grass Valley. He leaves a large circle of friends in both Nevada City and Grass Valley, who mourn his passing. He was known up and down the Mother Lode as an egnineer of sterling integrity and seasoned judgment.

The deceased leaves a sister, Mrs. Mary Best of Grass Valley, a brother, William Penhall of Sidney, Austrailia; two stepsons, C. H. Barker of Grass Valley and E. E. Barker of Salt Lake City; three nieces, Mrs. W. H. Gilbert of Sacramento, Mrs. Flora Angove of Sacramento, Mrs. L. Eddy of England; two nephews, William Penhall of Butte, Montana, and John Penhall of Portland, Oregon, a grandniece, Miss Louise Angove of Grass Valley, and a grand nephew Parker Gilbert of Sacramento.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the Emanuel Episcopal church in Grass Valley with W. R. Jefford and Son in charge. The Rev. C. F. Washburn officiated and Mrs. Lydia Talbot sang a sacred anthem.

The late Mr. Penhall was a member of the Masonic order and deeply interested in the work of his church, holding the office of senior warden of the Emanuel Episcopal church at the time of his death.

Pall bearers at the funeral service were old friends and were as follows: G. W. Starr, A. B. Foote, Fred Nobs, George L. Jones, John Curnow, and William Garland.

AUBURN MINING ENGINEER IN BAD WITH CO. OFFICIALS

James D. Stewart, well known mining man of Auburn, is not afraid to say what he thinks and sometimes it gets him in hot water. Recently "Jim" told some of the officials at the Placer county seat what he thought of them in regards to some philanthropic work for needy families. The indignant officers promptly had him arrested. Stewart demanded a jury trial and was granted it. The date of the trial has not been set.

"Jim" Stewart, although somewhat volatile at times, has a heart of gold, too big for his own convenience or pocketbook. The past two summers he has allowed snipers on his Dutch Flat property and when winter came sheltered them in the old cabins. He also provided them with food. However, there is a limit to every man's ability to dispense private charity and it was while calling these cases ot the attention of the authorities that the discussion became too heated.

Four years ago James Stewart made the fight for the hydraulic bill practically single handed, and saw it pass both houses only to be vetoed by Governor Young. He is again preparing a similar bill to be presented at this session of the legislature.

MANY PEOPLE IN TWIN CITIES SICK WITH FLU

The opening of the new year found a great many people in Grass Valley and Nevada City suffering with bad colds and influenza. The sickness varies from the ordinary cold to influenza and one or two cases of threatened pneumonia. Up to the present time there has been no abatement of the epidemic.

Be sure and do not Miss the Clearance Sale at the Betty Jean Shop, Nevada City.

CAMPTONVILLE MAN HAS 900 PENNIES

CAMPTONVILLE, Dec. 29.—Acton M. Cleveland, who with other duties, is secretary of the local Masonic Lodge, had one of the members come into his office a few days ago to pay the annual lodge dues, and in so doing, presented the secretary with a wooden box containing 900 pennies. This is more coppers than has been seen in this section for a long time. The secretary bewildered as to what to do with them, traded them off to Charley Greene for Flamo gas, wanting to get them out of town before Dutch Jake got wind of it and tried to get a corner on them for penny ante. They originated from the Lang Garage.

COMMITTEE OF FIFTEEN TO MEET IN G. V.

The committee of fifteen which was appointed by Governor Rolph early in December to prepare a legislative program to relieve mining of the high cost of Compensation Insurance is to hold its fourth meeting in Grass Valley on Friday. Another meeting will be held in Sacramento on January 11 and at that time the bills will be put into shape to present to the legislative bodies. Arthur B. Foote of Grass Valley is chairman of this committee and M. J. Brock is the secretary.

An invitation has been extended to the members of the committee to remain over for Saturdays meeting of the Mining Association and to visit the mining properties of the district on Saturday morning. The committee will be guests of the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce on Friday and the regular weekly luncheon of that body.

POSTMASTER'S REPORT SHOWS BIG GROWTH

One of the best indications that Nevada City is growing is found in the annual report of Postmaster P. G. Scadden, which shows an increase of $1939.07 in postal receipts over the year 1931. The figures for 1932 are $15,117.43. The postal receipts include stamps, box rent and stamped paper. The rating of any postoffice is based on the postal receipts. According to Mr. Scadden 1932 was the best year in the history of the Nevada City postoffice. During the month of December 1200 money orders were issued and postoffice activities in general showed an increase over previous years.

Nevada City is eligible for city delivery any time local residents desire to make the necessary application and do the preliminary work which the postofice department requires.

The increase in postal receipts shows that Nevada City has grown in population and that, in spite of the depression, a large volume of business was transacted here during the year 1932.

PROMINENT MINING MAN LEAVES ON WORLD TOUR

Mr. and Mrs. Errol MacBoyle of Grass Valley are leaving Sunday for San Francisco, where they will remain until Wednesday, January 11, when they will entrain for Vancouver, B. C., on the first lap of their world tour.

Mr. and Mrs. MacBoyle will embark on the Empress of Japan on January 14th. They plan to visit the Hawaiian islands, Japan, China, Philippines, Bali, Java, Singapore, Celyon, thence through the Suez canal to Marseilles, France. Their automobile is to be shipped to the latter port. They will tour through Europe, shipping their car from there to Quebec, from where they will motor to California, stopping en route to visit the World Fair at Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. MacBoyle expect to return about the last of June, when they will take up their residence at the Loma Rica ranch.

Chamber Names Five to Submit Plan to City

Meeting Wednesday Night Shows Sentiment in Favor of City Buying Redmen's Hall For Municipal Purposes; Committee Met Last Night With Council

Many citizens attended the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night to hear and to participate in the discussion of the question of the purchase of Redmen's Hall by the city as part of a site for a municipal swimming pool.

Following the discussion, President Hoge, of the chamber, appointed a committee, which will try to work out some plan for the purchase of the property. This committee consists of W. W. Waggoner, chairman, Phil S. Scadden, Mrs. Belle Douglas, J. F. Colley, and R. L. P. Bigelow.

During the discussion a considerable difference of opinion developed regarding whether or not the Redmen's Hall property would be the best site for a swimming pool. About the purchase of Redmen's Hall by the city, very little opposition was voiced.

The fact that money available for a swimming pool, was voted expressly for that purpose, and that the city should not use it for the purchase of Redmen's Hall unless it was proposed to carry through the project on that site, was voiced by those who held that the site was not sufficiently large nor properly located for that purpose.

It is understood that the Redmen are asking $4,000 for the Hall and the land on which it stands, and that originally it cost them approximately $12,000.

The committee appointed will confer with the city council in an endeavor to find a solution to the problem that will meet with the approval of all progressive Nevada City taxpayers.

Redmen's Hall is enshrined in the patriotic traditions and sentiment of this city. It was first built by Dr. R. M. Hunt. Following his sale of it, it became the Nevada City Armory, and from it marched the "boys of '63." Following the Civil War, Company C drilled there for many years. The volunteers in the Spanish American assembled there and marched to the station to entrain for duty in Cuba or the Phillippines. Nevada City boys and young men joined the colors in Redmen's Hall when the United States declared war upon Germany.

Whatever may be said regarding the feasibility of using Redmen's Hall property for a swimming pool, there seems little doubt from expressions voiced at the chamber of commerce hearing Wednesday nite, that the majority of citizens would like to see the municipality purchase the historic old property and use it for those varied purposes of community interest, for which, as it stands, it is admirably adapted.

Meet With City Council

The members of the chamber committee meeting last night with the city council held an interesting discussion of the proposed acquisition by the municipality of Redmen's Hall, in which several different points of view developed.

Owing to the fact that two of the city council were unable to attend the meeting, it was finally resolved to call a full board session with the committee at some near date at which all could be present.

W. W. Waggoner, chairman of the chamber committee, stated that it was apparent from the sentiments revealed at the chamber hearing Wednesday night that a majority of the citizens favored the purchase of the hall to be used for community purposes. He stated that unless the city did have such a hall, for large public gatherings people of this city would have to resort to Grass Valley.

Whether or not it would be possible to purchase the hall from the funds voted for a swimming pool, he stated, was for the city council to decide.

Mayor Bennetts declared that the council was unanimously of the opinion that the hall could not be purchased from the swimming pool fund, but was of the opinion that it could be purchased from other funds. He cited cases of other cities of the sixth class which had erected or purchased memorial halls for municipal uses.

Councilman W. Armstrong stated that according to the best legal opinion the city could not purchase the hall out of funds voted for another purpose, and he was of the opinion that it would be illegal for the city to purchase it in any event.

FIREMENS' BALL HUGE SUCCESS NEW YEARS

Despite a threatening rain that began shortly before seven o'clock New Year's Eve. The 26th annual Firemens' Ball given at the Redmen's Hall in this city was a howling success from a social, financial and every other standpoint.

As usual a good crowd attended the yearly function, but the attendance this year even surpassed the firemens' fondest expectations. It was one of the outstanding New Years Dance held in several years and certainly the outsanding event for Nevada City during the past year.

For the early comers, entertainment was in order which started at 7:30. The maskers came on about nine and for the next hour and one half, the dancing and fun that was had has been unsurpased. Between 300 and 400 couples were busy flinging themselves around the floor and enjoying the evening to the fullest extent.

Members of the Fire Department say that this years dance was attended by the most congenial crowd of people that they have seen in years. Everbody went out for a good time and got it.

Fire Chief Byron Landrigan wishes to thank the many donors of cash and merchandise prizes on behalf of the Nevada City Fire Department. They were in a large measure responsible for the success of the entertainment, as all were eagerly striving to win one of the many good prizes given. The lucky winners certainly had to have something on the ball to be in that class.

Further on behalf of the Department, Landrigan wishes to express gratitude to the many people who aided in the staging of the function and to those who attended in person and thereby made the success of the ball so sure.

PROMINENT OAKLANDERS VISIT HERE NEW YEARS

Motoring up from the bay district and spending the New Years day with friends here were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kewell Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Dan Jarrell and daughter Luda from Oakland.

Mr. Kewell is president and principal stockholder of the Western Paper Box Company of Oakland and Los Angeles. Last week he became a stockholder in the West Mines Corporation of Nevada City, development of which Mr. Orlando McCrarley and Mr. Gordon Bettles are furthering.

Mrs. Jarrell, before her amrriage was a Countess from Europe. She was very much impressed with our snow clad hills and mountains.

The entire party spent several hours visiting in Nevada City and spent some time in sleigh riding, a sport never experienced in their home city. Mr. and Mrs Kewell plan to return sometime this coming Spring for another pleasant visit.

LOOKING UP

By S. G. RUBINOW

What, is everyone asking, will 1933 bring us? Prosperity? Peace? Contentment? Economic equality? Economic stability?

Rich and poor, employed and unemployed, employer and employee, capital and labor, politicians and economists, farmers and industrialists—all are asking the same question.

Irrespective of personal views and beliefs, the goal toward which all are striving is the same. And that is: The determination of the ultimate form of human society which can serve mankind best.

One thing is certain. Nothing stands still, including this world. For thousands of years there has been constant evolution toward something better for mankind.

At times we have seemed to recede in progress. Now and then have come periods of distress, depressions, wars, suffering. Each time, however, the world has rebounded upward.

There is only one obvious conclusion. We can't stand still. We are not going back. We are going ahead, as we have always done.

In the past, there used to be conflict between tribes. Then came wars between nations. And now there is an evolutionary struggle between ideas and ideals.

Just what shall be the ultimate form of human society, through which the greatest good can be given mankind, no one knows. One's opinion is usually influenced by one's prejudices.

Some say communism is coming internationally. Others say communism can't work. It's all right theoretically but it runs contrary to human nature in practice. Some say capitalism has proved incapable. Others say, "eliminate the incentive of profit and you kill all progress."

A generation ago, John Stuart Mill, eminent economist, said: "We are too ignorant either of what individual agency in its best form, or socialism in its best form, can accomplish, to be qualified to decide which of the two will be the ultimate form of human society."

That statement still holds true. No one knows.

What everyone does know, however, is that the present economic situation can't last.

Moreover, its solution can't be found in slogans. Neither capitalism as such, nor communism as such, nor socialism as such, nor "technocracy," the latest theory of social organization for national systems of industrial management, can do the job alone.

There must be a reconciliation between all ideas and ideals, so that a common stamping ground may be found, out of which may be evolved practices making for the maximum amount of good for all.

How to speed up that reconciliation is a problem. The doors of the Hall of Fame are wide open to the economist who can show how to bring about a more adequate distribution of wealth without stifling progress and initiative.

The same doors are open to the economist who can prove that human beings can be communized, levelized, standardized, and stabilized after the manner of automobiles or other machinery made by man.

The Letter Box

(Contributed)

On Tuesday last, Richard A. Eddy retired from public office after a long and creditable career. He has filled the office of supervisor of the first supervisoral district of this county, which includes Nevada City, for an even twenty years. During this extended period, many changes have taken place in the county in the way of population and industrial pursuits. The county, with its varied conditions, presents to the supervisors for solution many problems, and it takes a pretty level head to keep things moving harmoniously and in the right direction.

As a member of the board of supervisors, and its chairman for many years, Mr. Eddy has worked quietly but effectively in advancing the best interests of the county at large and his own district in particular. County roads and bridges, improvements at the courthouse, the new and modern county hospital, and the location of the Tahoe-Ukiah highway have all been objects of his tireless support.

"Dick" has been a good public servant and he retires to private life with the consciousness of having been faithful to his trust.

To The Editor of the Nugget.
Dear Sir, of the different people who serve the public I believe there is one branch who do not get the credit they so honestly deserve and that is Uncle Sams Postoffice Force.

Take Mr. P. G. Scadden and his able assistants, who have worked early and late, always polite and I believe there is more spirit shown in handling mail in the Nevada City Post Office than any I have ever been in, and I have been in a great many. Happy New Year to Mr. Scadden and his able crew.

Respectfully yours,
ED. M. MARTINE.

S. P. PLANS BIG DROP IN PRICE OF DINER MEALS

From now on, dining car meals on Southern Pacific trains are going to be much easier to take—both physically and financially.

No longer will patrons be called upon to pick out and pay for the menu items one by one, it was announced this week.

Instead, the procedure will be: "You pay for the entree and the rest of the full course meal, including soup, salad, vegetables, bread, butter, beverage and dessert, will be furnished without additional charge."

The new policy, already in effect on several important trains and soon to be extended if successful, was made known by H. A. Butler, head of Southern Pacific's dining car department. It features a price reduction of more than 50 per cent, he said.

Patrons will have a choice of any one of five entrees, including meat, poultry and fish, under the so-called "luncheon and dinner select" program, according to the announcement. Club breakfasts, numbered from one to four, with a corresponding price range, will also be served, it was stated, and meals a la carte will still be available to those who prefer such service.

Railroads have served table d'hote dinners and special luncheons at fixed prices, it was pointed out, but the serving of a variety of full course meals, all for the price of the main order, is distinctly new on dining cars and is being introduced by Southern Pacific for the first time.

THE PAY STREAK

Bright sun, snappy mornings, a New Year smile radiating from about 99 per cent of the people you meet. The world moves swiftly into 1933 and hope springs again the human breaast for a long pull and strong pull toward something like normal conditions within the twelve months.

It was Henry Ford who launched his "peace ship" and promised to have the "boys out of the trenches by Christmas." It was a fine lot of politicians who met in a couple of conventions awhile back in Chicago and promised us all "ber by Christmas." There is no use in talking, the fellows who try to pull a Santa Claus stunt generally fail miserably.

The chaps who were elected to this legislature have got a man's sized job. If they will pick the right leaders and then help like sixty, they may bring the good ship California into the port of Real Economy. Governor Rolph will undoubtedly put his shoulder to the wheel in the job of cutting down the costs of government. There are plenty of fine things in the way of public service that we can afford, and afford gladly when we are prosperus, that we can't afford now. It is the business of the state legislature to prune those things off right. Let us have the essentials but none of the luxuries please.

Met the Arkansas Traveler in Main street yesterday and he told this yarn: Down in the Ozarks the mountaineers provide their own bacon from droves of razor backs that run wild in the wood. In some sections the soil is a stiff clay and the pigs in lying down and getting up collect balls of mud on their long, uncropped tails. The mud dries and with each successive rain the wretched creatures accumulate more mud until an eight or ten pound ball is formed. This weight draws the whole hide of the animal rearward, so that the pigs are unable to close their eyes and perish miserably of insomnia.

It is pleasant to recall, in this sharp bright weather, the old limerick, which contrasts the climate in Nevada City with that elsewhere. It runs thus:

The poor, benighted Hindoo
He does the best he kin do,
For coat and vest,
And all the rest,
He has to make his skin do.

Overheard in a restaurant; the proprietor speaking: "This bum he says to me he was making his way round the world bumming meals off Scotchmen. I says to him you look to me like a super-Scotchman and mebbe you can work them Scotch, but not me, for I'm no Scot. Whatever you eat here you pay for same as everybody else. When he done eating I collected what he says was the first two bits he had spent between here and Bonny Dune. I ain't so sure he was Scotch, but anyway he'll remember Nevada City as a place where he paid."

Sierra Officer Gets New Car

Traffic officer Pinta of Sierra county went to Sacramento Tuesday. There he exchanged his trusty little Ford roadster for a Studebaker six coupe. Andy seemed to think it was too much car for the territory, but we predict that he will not be long in accustoming himself to the comfort of a larger vehicle.

Norman Costa of Downieville has been quite ill with the flue for about a week. At this writing, except for being a bit weak in the knees, he's around again as snappy as ever.

Sacramento—California will now spend approximately $61,700,000 for highways during next two years if budget tentatively adopted by the State Highway Commission is approved.

Again Being Universally Used

DOCTOR LAUDS HERBS, DRUGS

Drugs and simple remedies handed down for generations and later discarded are now proving to be of great value to the medical profession.

This was revealed by Dr. Linn John Boyd, head of the department of pharmacology and homeopathy of the New York Homeopathy Medical College. Dr. Boyd came from New York to attend the sessions of the American College of Physicians, of which he is a fellow.

"We can observe certain results in the use of animals," Boyd said. "But the animals cannot tell their feelings. For th efiner shades in results we need the human."

In these lesser known and discarded drugs, he pointed out ,modern medical science is finding great value. HERBS USED BY THE CHINESE FOR CENTURIES AND THEN DISCARDED, TODAY ARE AGAIN BEING UNIVERSALLY USED.

MEET YOUR DOLLAR AROUND THE CORNER

When you trade in the Twin Cities, buying the things you need of old friends among merchants and business men you are very likely to meet the dollar you have just paid out, around the corner. In other words the dollar you pay out comes back to you, and enables to spend it again and again. If you spend your dollars at home you increase your own buying power as well as that of your neighbors.

Prosperity may, or may not, be just around the corner, but one thing is certain, to spend or send your dollars away from home, helps to bulid up some other community, and helps to delay the return of prosperity to your own home.

Nevada City and Grass Valley though they do feel the depression somewhat, are not nearly as hard hit as other cities which must depend entirely upon argriculture for business. To take advantage of the fortunate position of our two communities, the world's need of new gold fresh from the good earth, is then, but good business, and by buying those things we must have for our comfort and well being from our own merchants, we keep prosperity as a definite goal to be achieved.

OUR COUNTY FIRST

I want to go to Switzerland—
What rapture it would be,
To surge right up a frozen Alp
And yodel "lah kai lee!"
But Switzerland is far from here—
Her joys I must forego;
Still, I can climb Ski Mountain, lads,
And frolic in the snow.

I'd like to see some malamutes
Mush mushing thru the hills;
A good dog team that's out to win,
Just steeps my soul in thrills;
Ah me, Alaska's far away,
With all her noble brutes,
But I can go to Truckee, boys,
And foundle malamutes.

Now, I adore great rivers too,
The Thames, the Rhine, the Po;
I'd like to stand upon their banks
And watch their seaward flow;
But when I track to old San Juan
The Yuba sings to me,
Of friends and dear familiar scenes,
And trails of memory.

I'm going to see our country first—
Her mountains, lakes, and streams;
And catch the magic of her charms,
The romance of her dreams;
For Nature here in gracious mood,
Dispensed her lavish bounty
And leagued with Beauty made for us
Our own Nevada County.

IN YOUR OWN INTEREST SHOP IN THE "TWIN CITIES"

Yuba River Country

By J. L. Wolff

As a boy of nine, Frank Hooper used to hang around the Empire Mines. The various activities seemed to fascinate him. Soon he was carrying buckets of water from the spring alongside the Casidy house to the men who were working on the new stampmill. A few more y ears at school and by 1888 he was back at the Empire Mill—this time to stay. During the first year it was "wipe up! wipe up! wipe up!" The man who g ave him those instructions was one of the old timers, Matthew Provine who was mill foreman. Mr. Provine had been working at the Empire without interuption since the year 1858. Hooper had been around the mill but a short time when Supt. McKay walked through one day. Stooping, he noticed a shovel full of concentrates had filtered to the floor far back in a corner under the old "Triumph" concentrator. He called Frank and had him crawl under the concentrator to get it. Then McKay told him, "Boy, if you had 100 tons of that it would be all the money you would ever want." In 1898 he was promoted to mill foreman, relieving the brother of Governor James Rolph, George Rolph, who left to enter the sugar business at Crockett. From 1884 Hooper had seen the mill grow from 20 small to 80 large stamps. Sixty of these weigh 1480 pounds each and the remaining 20 each tip the scales at 1690. All together they weigh 61 tons. Every stamp is lifted between 6 and 7 inches 105 times a minute. Therefore the total weight lifted in every twenty-four hours to crush the quartz approximates nine and a quarter million tons!

The ore is brought into the mill and dumped into bins just under the roof, fed to the batteries of five stamps each, and the pulverized quartz runs over copper plates coated with mercury, which has a strong affinity for gold. The pulp is then washed down on to the concentrator tables where the waste quartz is separated from the sulphides. These tables are of vaious makes but the pinciple in all of them is much the same. They vibrate rapidly so that a stream of water fed in with the pulp is continuously spilled over the riffles. The barren pulverized rock is washed over with the water but the gold laden sulphides are too heavy to be lifted over these riffles—so they follow a slanting groove to the lower corner of the tables where they fall into boxes. Here they look like piles of glistening, gold flecked black sand. An attempt to lift a shovel full soon convinces one that it is an extremely heavy mineral. On to the cyanide plant it goes and by chemical treatment the values are recovered. At the North Star the cyanide method has been compleltely replaced by flotation—whereby the gold is caught by various oils that have been beaten into a foam, floated to the top of the water, and skimmed off. The same substitution will soon take place at the Empire.

Back in the mill, Hooper and his men are concerned with the amalgam to be recovered from the copper plates. This is taken to the Perden clean up pan, consisting of a large cast-iron bowl, revolving 20 r.p.m.s and set at an angle of 45 degrees. Connon-balls are still used in the bowl, revolving in an opposite direction to the pan, grinding and cleaning thoroughly all amalgam, headings, magnet iron, or anything from the mill that requires grinding. A continuous overflow of water washes out all the waste material, leaving a product which is easily cleaned up. A quantity is then put in a miner's pan and dumped into a square piece of canvas. This is twisted into a ball. The mercury is then squeezed out through the weaving much as drops of perspiration spring up on a toiling man's forehead. Soon a ball of nearly pure gold remains. In the retort room these are melted into gold bricks. During the more than forty years Frank Hooper has been on the job, he has poured better than 35 millions worth of gold into bars. Up on the rafters inthe carpenter shop is a model of an immense gold bar that was used in 1925 to show the amount of gold produced at the Empire from 1850 to 1925. It is 10 feet long, 4 feet 3 inches wide, and 3 feet 3 inches high- and represents 70.6 tons of solid gold.

The Empire-Star properties still face the problems that have always faced them—utilizing the latest and most scientific discoveries to overcome the increasing difficulties due to the ever increasing depth. It is still the same struggle-only the factors have changed. Upon the shoulders of General Manager Fred W. Nobs and Superintendent Jack Mann at the North Star fall the responsibilities of seeing that the balance remains in favor of the operators. May its history continue to repeat.

METHOD TO MAKE GOLD IS FOUND IN GERMANY

It was recently announced that a prominent German chemist in Berlin had evolved a method whereby using various chemicals he was able to produce pure gold. We have had German silver for some time now and it looks like we will soon have German gold. It is claimed that the manufactured gold is absolutely the real McCoy, and acid test will not break it down. Interesting if true.

The German government has already taken a keen interest in the work of the Berlin inventor. Two have offered him any aid he wishes.

If successfully manufactured, this new gold will prove to be mighty embarassing to good old Uncle Sam. It would enable the other countries to pay off their war debts to us and after that our own gold would have about the value of brass in foreign trade. Home trade too, for that matter.

The look at what an awful crimp such a condition would put into our own district here in Nevada county. It would make it look like a deserted giant prairie dog colony.

A very interesting detail that has been withheld is the manufacturing cost per ounce of this gold. If the manufacturing cost is higher than the present mining cost, we will have nothing to worry about. It has been heard that this manufacturing cost will be around thirty dollars. Of course with further research and better methods the cost will be cut down, but whether it will come dangerously close to the twenty dollar mark or not remains to be seen.

It may be that the metal can be produced cheap enough to replace brass, bronze, iron, steel and other such building and construction materials. What an industrial revolution that would produce!

The result will be interesting and we have to admit, we hope not successful.

FREMONT WOODS OF SAN JUAN, ILL

Mr. Fremont Woods who has lived the greater part of his life in San Juan, was taken seriously ill Saturday evening as he was finishing his days chores. He was not able to walk to his home but had to be helped. Today—Tuesday—he had recovered sufficiently to be around again apparently none the worse for the experience.

Resume of Mining in Nevada County During Past Year

By Edna Martine

It is anticipated that the year 1933 will be one of the most important that has occurred in Nevada county in many years.

Last year brought forth much progress in the new mines, while a number of prospects have had considerable development work done on them and good showings are being made. Within the last few weeks owing to the late, open fall, leases and many worthwhile investigations have been made, particularly to the north and east of Nevada City.

According to reports a lot of new machinery is to be shipped to the Spanish Mine at Washington shortly after the first of the year. When this property closed about a year ago there were in the neighborhood of 80 men employed. Last reports from the Ancho mine, a small crew of men were working.

On New Year's day of 1932 all men were released at the Murchie mine, east of Nevada City, that being the date of its being taken over by the Newmont company. After several months spent in development and the installation of several thousand dollars of new machinery, a larger crew, about 200 men, is working today. In that time the mine was sunk another 300 feet also, and a couple of large pumps have been ordered to pump the water from the lowest or 1600 foot level. The mining property comprises several hundred acres of ground, with a number of well defined veins. George Kervin is superintendent of the mine.

Within the last few months the Hoge Development Co. mine has sunk to the 600 foot level, installed a 50 ton daily capacity flotation mill and they are now sinking a 200 foot winze on one of the important ledges in the mine. According to all accounts, if the Hoge mine holds up to expectations it will be one of the richest producers in the Nevada City district. Arthur Hoge is president and Otto Schiffner superintendent of the property.

The Spring Hill mine between Nevada City and Grass Valley is making splendid progress in sinking in the old shaft on their property. The ground lies in a rich territory as it adjoins the Idaho-Maryland on the north and known producing ledges extend through this new property. It is expected that in a few months this new mine will be swinging into line as one of the new producers. R. Plate is in charge of operations with 12 men employed.

The past year has seen many changes and additions in the equipment and property of the famous Idaho-Maryland mine. About the first of the year several hundred acres of mineral land were added to the already large property. This company carries on a strong development program at all times and has an immense body of ore opened up. Additions have been made in stamps at the mill; a new 105 foot headframe has been erected at the mine; new and enlarged ore bins have been built and the Nevada County Narrow Gauge Railroad has run a spur track to the property to assist in handling ore and supplies. From time to time men have been added until about 200 men are employed and the mill is working three shifts per day. Errol MacBoyle, who is largely interested in the property, is superintendent.

The Empire-North Star and Pennsylvania Mines of Grass Valley, which are owned by the Newmont company, have continued to operate steadily through the year with large crews of men. Messrs. Simpkins and Nobs are in charge of operations.

The Golden Center mine, in Grass Valley, owned by the Cooley Butler interests of Los Angeles, has opened up during the year of 1932, and it is understood much development work is being done. Some machinery has been added in the past few months. L. S. Wincapaw is superintendent.

Within recent months the Empress mine, west of Nevada City in the Newtown section, has sunk over seven hundred feet in their proposed 1000 foot shaft on highly satisfactory ore. Drifting is progressing on two or three levels. A new site has been selected for a larger mill when the mine goes on heavier production. The Mynough ranch to the south, recently purchased by Mr. Murphy, an Alaskan mining man of San Francisco, has been added to the property and they will both be worked through the same shaft.

About 35 men are employed under the superintendency of Ed C. Jacobs.

Last but not least by any means was the recent purchase of the Champion mine group on the western limits of Nevada City by Dr. Carl Jones of Grass Valley. There is a magic effect in our midst when any mention is made of this famous old producer of millions. In its highest production days fully 300 men were employed. There are several well known ledges of rich ore running through the property.

Anyone can see the promise it holds, when we realize there are not enough homes now for the men employed in our mines, with about 2500 population in Nevada City district at this time. It begins to look like the "good old days" to many old timers.

We want to tell the world at large that we are not too optimistic, but this review shows we have a right to at least feel that gold mining is making steady progress in the Nevada county field. This county has many other properties that are merely waiting for capital and courage to develop them.

He Just Doesn't Give a Hang!

We'd be hanged if we tried it, but J. D. Pate, stunt man of Los Angeles, doesn't think his stunt of being suspended by the neck from a moving blimp is anything unusual. It isn't very comfortable though, he says, and he doesn't care to make any speeches when he's back on terra firma. Pate is shown hanging from the blimp Volunteer as it cruised over the city of Los Angeles.

FLU STRIKES AGAIN

The flu took heavy toll at Wilsons Log Cabin this week. First Mrs. Soly was down in bed for a couple of days. Next Mr. Wilson vent groggy with it and now young Wilson and Mr. Soly are both down with the same malady. The reports are that all are rapidly regaining their health.

HIGH SCHOOL DROP TWO BALL GAMES

Going into a semi-trance last Wednesday evening ,the two local A and B high school basketball teams remained submerged long enough to lose two practise games, 18 to 25 to the Saint Mary's Cardinals and 27 to 30 to the Casci's All Stars respectively, both winning teams coming from Grass Valley. What happened to the locals has not as yet been determined by the local student body, but it is hoped that both teams snap out of it before the games at Lincoln tonight versus the Lincoln high school teams of the same class.

Oates, for the A team, missed several crip shots Wednesday night and showed need of improvement in hole shooting. Tucker showed that he needs considerable polishing on his defensive work. Casci, regular standing guard, was out of the line up due to illness but was out for light practise last evening prior to tonight's game.

As usual Pierce was the outstanding offensive player, personally accounting for two third of his teams points. As a whole the team seemed slow to take advantage of opportunities and a field to show to advantage in anything but spurts which were short lived.

The lineups:
Nevada City
Oates (2), Chapman (4), Pierce (12), Tucker, Wasley, Moore, Schiffner.

St. Marys Cardinals
Macari (2), Johns, M. Younkers, Verlod (6), Cooper (12), Younkers, Baker(5).

The B team score was much closer, but Coach Bev Barron was likewise disappointed with the showing. Shaffi, due to scholastic difficulties was not in the lineup and his loss was keenly felt. Tamblyn was moved up from a guard position to fill the vacant forward berth, but the move further weakened the already weak guard positions on the B team.

The B team played strangely like the A team Wednesday night and showed that they were sorely in need of "basketball sence." Their timing of plays was way off and not a player shower up well at all as a guard.

With the B team, Coach Barron is still groping around for a dependable pair of guards, the lack of which is most noticeable.

The lineups:
Nevada City (27)
Toccalini(12), Steger, Tamblyn (9), Renfrow, Celio (6), Sharp, Clark, Doyle, Burry, Hoffman.

Casci's All Stars (30)
Casci (6), Sullivan (12), D. Jacobson (8), L. Jacobson (2), Tamietti (2)

NEWS COMMENT

By Christian Andersen

The Nugget's campaign asking people to trade at home is evidently bearing fruit. As witness, today one of the wagon men who regularly makes this territory called on the writers wife and attempted to sell her some of his products. In the course of conversation he said emphatically that Nevada City was one of the tough spots to sell outside products because the folks had all been stung by the trade at home bug. So you see the campaign has had some effect.

Well we didn't get our legal beer or wine by Christmas, which of course does not mean that we didnt partake of good old fashioned Tom and Jerry and we can. I believe that there were not many others who also imbibed a little at this holiday season. The sad part is that the government did not get any revenue and we wonder when the awakening will come.

Those Russians do some things that seem queer to us of America for instance, they sentenced to death three of the highest in command of the Soviet party for withholding certain information regarding the grain grown in the Ukraine which all goes to show that no matter how important you are in the Russia of today they will proceed to execute you—if you deserve it—just to show that they can function without your help.

A resume of last years accomplishments— if any—might be in order and might even be interesting. But let me instead suggest that we all with one accord face east Salaam to the sun and the New Year.

Then with determination in our heart make this year really productive of progress, when next year comes around we can point with pride to the fact that we have made our talents pay interest.

Henry Huckins of San Juan may get as mad as a wet hen when he sees this because Henry does not like publicity. But whenever a man starts in to improve his place of business in these times he deserves to be held up as an example to one of the rest o fus. Henry is improving the looks of his store and the inside is being rearranged to make more room. Looks mighty good.

Mrs. James T. Grace of Alleghany is hanging a new sign, most artistically done, by John R. Pavilla of Grass Valley. We hope the sign brings Mrs. Grace a lot of new customers. And listen an American half dollar never bought more or better food than is served at this hostelry—remember what I have told you.

It is unfair to kick a man when he is down, and we do not wish to gloat over any ones misfortune, nevertheless, it is not ungentle to constructively criticise and we rise to remark, that Herbert Hoover is in our opinion one of the tragic figures in contemperary world politics, As witness his several attempts to get Roosevelt to help solve the war debt mixup. President Hoover suggested the establishment of one of his justly famous commissions. President elect Roosevelt naively, but firmly declined participation, and Mr. Hoover definitely dropped the whole affair. We haven't the slightest worry over this, because our confidence is in Roosevelt.
